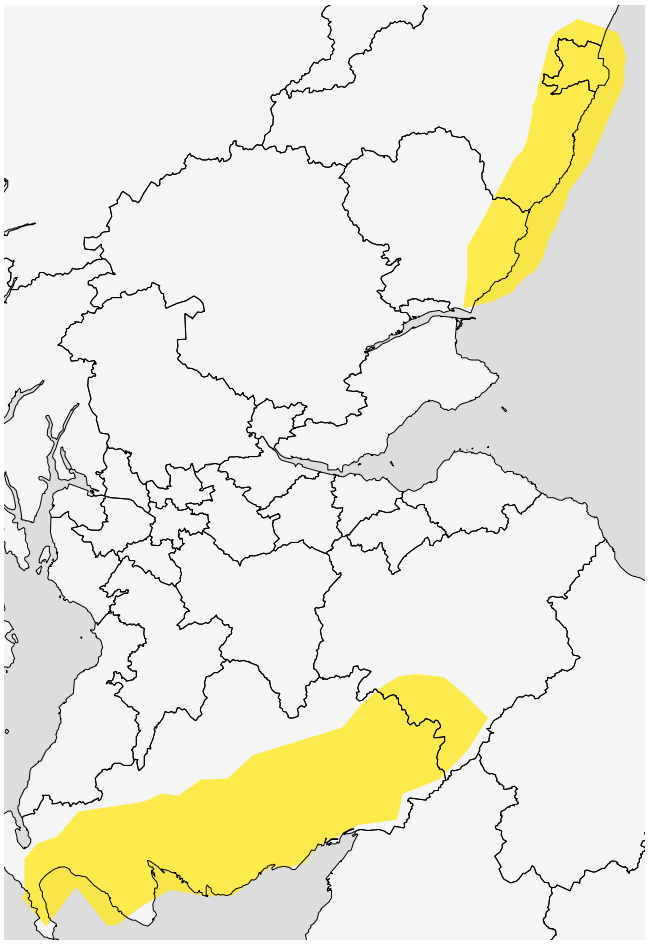
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
21:00 Thu 22 Aug 2024 and
09:00 Fri 23 Aug 2024



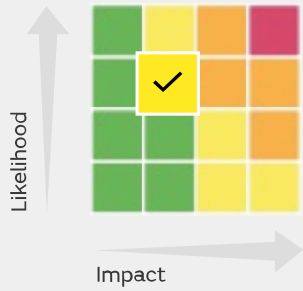
A period of heavy rain could lead to impacts from flooding.

What to expect

- Bus and train services probably affected with journey times taking longer
- Spray and flooding on roads probably making journey times longer
- Flooding of a few homes and businesses is likely

Further details

An area of rain spreads northeast into Southwest Scotland during Thursday night, affecting north eastern areas of Scotland early on Friday morning before clearing away east into the North Sea by mid Friday morning. 20-30mm is expected widely across Southwest Scotland, with some of this heavy rain for a short time with some thunder accompanying the rain. 20mm in 6 hours is a possibility. Over high ground there is a chance of 40-50mm over the whole period. Strong west or northwest winds are likely for a time around the Solway coast.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts

The Aberdeenshire and Angus coastal areas may see 20-30 mm of rain in 6-9 hours, accompanied by high tides and some coastal surge, possibly leading to some flooding during Friday morning.

What should I do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding. If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
